Welcome to Princeton!

America’s best minds have been visiting and meeting in the Princeton region for more than 200 years. The Princeton region offers a stimulating combination of performances by nationally and internationally acclaimed theater and musical groups, museums that address every intellectual interest, as well as modern fitness centers, gourmet restaurants, bustling malls, and sports events of every form and league. All of this can be found in a region that evolved from significant events in American history and that is known for its charming old fashioned shopping villages, monuments, and beautiful parks.

As you prepare for your trip, we hope you will find this guide a useful resource. It was compiled with information to assist you with your travel plans and to make your stay in Central New Jersey even more enjoyable.

Please feel free to contact members of the Princeton staff if you have any additional questions or need further assistance. We look forward to your visit and wish you good luck in the upcoming season!

Education Through Athletics

The Princeton University Department of Athletics is committed to its core philosophies of having intercollegiate athletics serve as an extension of the overall educational mission of the institution and that, for the student-athletes, participation in intercollegiate athletics at Princeton University is a co-curricular experience.

These philosophies are at the heart of the Department’s official motto: “Education Through Athletics.”

Princeton University as an institution strives for excellence in fulfilling its central and primary purposes of teaching, scholarship, and research and places particular emphasis on the quality of undergraduate teaching.

Within this context, the University’s position has long been that competitive athletics programs contribute significantly to the teaching and development of students, and all University athletics programs are designed to be in harmony with the essential educational objectives of the institution. For example, intercollegiate competition in organized athletics helps to foster an enthusiastic sense of shared allegiance among all parts of the University - students, faculty, staff, alumni, and friends. For these reasons, the University offers an extensive array of competition opportunities at the varsity intercollegiate, club intercollegiate, and intramural levels, as well as a variety of physical education and recreational programs that allow members of the University community to pursue athletic endeavors that meet their interests and skills. Within its own framework, Princeton vigorously works for excellence at all levels of play and also for balance within its athletics program; the University is committed to equal opportunity for men and women, to wide participation in intercollegiate athletics, and, in these and in all other respects, adheres to the principles that govern the Ivy League.

For the individual students who participate in athletics, Princeton’s goal is that they be both students and athletes - “student athletes” in the fullest sense of the phrase. As a matter of its own educational policy, the University seeks to assure that athletes are representative of the student body, and are treated as all other students -- with the same regard for their health, their academic achievement, and their general personal development. Princeton’s competitive athletics programs are intended to encourage in their participants a desire for excellence, respect for colleagues, fair play, teamwork, leadership, perseverance, and integrity. Athletics provides opportunities for undergraduates both to understand the rewards that come from dedication to a larger purpose and to develop their personal, physical, and intellectual skills. In addition, the recreational sports programs offered by the Department of Athletics are intended to provide graduate students, faculty, and staff as well as undergraduates with a variety of opportunities to participate in competitive sports and in other forms of athletic pursuits that contribute to their health and well-being.

Directions to Princeton University

From the West or Midwest
In New Jersey, drive east on Interstate 78 until you reach Highway 206. Turn south and follow 206 south into Princeton. Turn left onto Nassau Street/NJ 27 and take your first right onto Mercer Street. Take your first left onto Alexander Street. Follow Alexander Street until you reach the second light. Take a left at this light onto Faculty Road. Follow to Complex 1 or Complex 2.

From the South
Follow the New Jersey Turnpike north to EXIT 8 - Hightstown. Turn left onto Highway 33 after exiting the turnpike and follow signs for Route 571. Continue for approximately 12 miles on Route 571 until you reach the intersection of Route 1. Continue straight on 571 across US 1. Once you cross the intersection, Route 571 becomes Washington Road. Continue on Washington Road across a bridge until you come to your first light. Follow to Complex 1 or Complex 2.

From the North
Follow the New Jersey Turnpike south to EXIT 9 - New Brunswick. After the toll booth (use a booth on the far right), turn right onto the ramp to Highway 18 north. Soon after, turn into the left and fork of the road, staying in the right lane (you will see a Bennigan’s restaurant ahead and to your right as you bear left). You will immediately bear right for an obscured exit to US 1 south, Trenton. These three turns occur in rapid succession. Follow US 1 about 18 miles to the exit at Route 571 (Washington road). Turn right and follow Washington Road (Route 571) across the bridge until you come to your first light. Follow to Complex 1 or Complex 2.

From Philadelphia, Delaware, Maryland, etc
Follow Route 95 North into New Jersey. Staying on Route 95 North, proceed to exit 8B, Princeton Pike North. Take Princeton Pike (Mercer St) until you reach a 25 MPH speed zone. Proceed on Mercer St. down the hill in front of you. Proceed up the hill and through the next light. Take your next right onto Alexander Street. Proceed on Alexander St. until you reach the second left. Take a left onto Faculty road. Follow to Complex 1 or Complex 2.
