Follow Along ...

The 2014 Princeton season finale will be streamed live on ESPN3/WatchESPN, with Dave Leno and Ken Dunek calling the action. The game will also be streamed on WPRB 103.3 FM with Dan Loney and Dave Giancola; the call will follow the broadcast of the men's basketball home game against Incarnate Word at 11 am.

20-20 Vision

The Class of 2015 began its Princeton careers with a 1-11 mark in its first 12 games. With a victory today against Dartmouth, the senior class would graduate with a 20-20 record, and it would own at least one victory against every Ivy League opponent.

Going Green

The members of the Class of 2015 have at least a .500 record against every other school in the Ivy League, but they are winless against Dartmouth. Princeton's last victory over the Big Green came in the 2009 finale.

End To End

Princeton is looking for its first win in either a season opener or a season finale under head coach Bob Surace. Since 2012, Princeton is 18-6 in Weeks 2-9 and 0-5 in Weeks 1 and 10.

Championship Picture

This will be the first game Princeton has played when it was eliminated from the Ivy League race since the 2011 season finale. Dartmouth, however, can still earn a share of the crown with a victory on Powers Field and a Yale win over Harvard.

Just Quinn

Senior quarterback Quinn Epperly, the reigning Ivy League Player of the Year, rushed for three touchdowns last weekend at Yale. Heading into the final game of his career, Epperly has 38 rushing touchdowns, second only to Keith Elias (49) in program history.

Epperly also has 35 career passing touchdowns, second-most in program history to Doug Butler (47).

A PRINCETON WIN WOULD ...

- give Princeton back-to-back winning seasons for only the second time since 1995
- end a four-game losing streak to Dartmouth
- be Princeton's sixth straight victory following a loss, dating back to Week 9 of 2012
- give the Class of 2015 a career record of 20-20 (following a 1-11 start)
- be Princeton's first win in a season opener or season finale since 2009

Movin' On Up

Both Connor Kelley and Matt Costello have moved into the Princeton Top 10 in all-time receptions this season. Costello is fourth with 148 catches, and he needs six this weekend to tie Chisom Opara for third on the all-time list. Kelley is tied with Phil Wendler for eighth on the all-time list (124); he needs two to tie Brendan Circle for seventh.

Costello is also sixth in career receiving yards (1,659); he needs 50 to tie Trey Peacock for fifth on the all-time list, and he needs 56 to tie Michael Lerch for fourth. Kelley is 12th with 1,356 yards, and he would move to 11th with 29 receiving yards.

Kelley is tied for fifth at Princeton with 10 career touchdown receptions; Costello, who caught a 30-yard touchdown pass last season at Dartmouth, needs two today to get into the Top 5.

Catching On

In the first seven games of the season, sophomore wideout James Frusciante averaged three catches and 24.7 receiving yards per game. Over the last two weeks, Frusciante has averaged seven catches and 78.5 receiving yards per game, and he recorded his first career touchdown reception at Yale last week.

Running Away

Junior running back DiAndre Atwater has suffered through an injury-plagued season, but he has had a dramatic impact in Princeton's run game this season. In the six games he has played, Princeton has averaged 186 rushing yards per game; in the three he missed, the Tigers averaged 100.7.

Atwater is averaging 7.4 yards per carry this season, the most for any starting running back in the Ivy League.

At A Loss

Senior co-captain Mike Zeuli leads all Ivy League players with 14.5 tackles for loss, which is four more than any other player in the league and 6.5 more than any player outside of Princeton. He had three tackles for loss at Yale last weekend.

Zeuli needs nine tackles this weekend to go over the 200-mark for his career.

Slam The Dor-ian

Sophomore Dorian Williams had a career game in Princeton's last home game, a 22-17 win over Penn. Williams recorded 13 tackles, three pass break-ups, an interception and an 85-yard fumble return that set up a score in the victory.

Williams now leads Princeton in tackles (73) and pass breakups (six), and he ranks third in the Ivy League with 8.1 tackles per game.

Hylton Express

Sophomore Rohan Hylton is already showing what kind of impact he can have in this league over the next couple of seasons. Hylton currently ranks second in the league in both sacks (4.5) and tackles for loss (10.5), and he ranks 10th with 7.2 tackles per game.

Welcome Matt

Junior Matt Arends, who has started 25 straight games for Princeton at either cornerback or safety, set up a Tiger touchdown last weekend with his second interception of the season. Arends is fourth on the team with 52 tackles, including 10 last weekend, and he leads all non-seniors on the Princeton roster with 157 career stops.

Ty Score

Sophomore defensive lineman Ty Desiré had two sacks and five tackles in Princeton's victory over Penn two weeks ago. He leads all Princeton defensive linemen with five tackles for loss and three sacks this season.

Junior Ian McGeary leads all Princeton defensive linemen with 22 tackles, while Kurt Holuba leads all Tiger freshmen with 18 tackles and 4.5 tackles for loss this season.

Passing Fancy

In Princeton's four losses this season, the Tigers have allowed at least 9.5 yards per pass; in its five wins, the highest yards-per-pass allowed in a single game was 7.2 (Cornell). Over the last five weeks, Princeton has allowed more 400-yard passing games (two) than it did all of last season (one).

In its 28-24 win over Princeton in the 2013 season finale, Dartmouth threw for only 92 yards.

Covering Princeton Football

Week 9: Princeton (5-3, 4-1 Ivy) at Yale (7-1, 4-1 Ivy)

At Stake

Princeton and Dartmouth annually play for two trophies, the Governor's Cup and the Sawhorse Dollar. While the Governor's Cup has been around for decades, the Sawhorse Dollar was introduced in 2004. This dollar was originally presented by Dartmouth alum T.J. Rodgers, Class of 1970, to Princeton's Tad LaFountain '72 after the business associates had a friendly agreement in 2002 to have the one whose alma mater lost send $1 to the one whose alma mater won that year's game. When Princeton rallied to win the game 38-30, Rodgers sent LaFountain a 1917 dollar instead of a modern one. Rodgers, in addition to being the CEO of Cypress Semiconductors in San Jose, is also a currency collector.

I'm Honored

Freshman offensive lineman Richard Bush was named one of the five recipients of the 2014 NFF National High School Scholar-Athlete Awards, which was announced by the National Football Foundation & College Hall of Fame. Bush was an all-state lineman at Plant HS in Tampa, Fla.

Though the NFF only hands out five national Scholar-Athlete Awards per year, Bush is the third member of this Princeton team to have earned the honor. The other two are senior Matt Costello and sophomore Nick Peabody. Max Coale '14 received the honor in 2010.

The Crystal Ball

Princeton will have a 42-week bye before opening the 2015 season Sept. 19 at Lafayette. The Tigers are scheduled to play five home games next season, including three in a row following the season opener. Princeton will host Lehigh Sept. 26, and then will open its Ivy League season Oct. 3 against Columbia. Princeton will also host Colgate Oct. 10, and then Cornell on Halloween Day. The home finale will come Nov. 14 against Yale.

Week 9: Princeton (5-3, 4-1 Ivy) at Yale (7-1, 4-1 Ivy)

1957, 1963, 1964, 1966, 1969, 1989, 1992, 1995, 2006, 2013 Ivy League champions

BOB SURACE '90

THE CHARLES W. CALDWELL JR. '25 HEAD COACH OF FOOTBALL

1957, 1963, 1964, 1966, 1969, 1989, 1992, 1995, 2006, 2013 Ivy League champions

Bob Surace '90, a man who both won an Ivy League title as an All-Ivy center and met his future wife while at Princeton, returned to his beloved alma mater on Dec. 23, 2009 with the goal of restoring the program to its past glory.

Within four seasons, he achieved that mark in record-breaking fashion.

Surace, a 2013 finalist for the Eddie Robinson Jr. National Head Coach of the Year award, led Princeton to the 2013 Ivy League championship while setting Ivy League records in both total offense and scoring offense. Despite being picked to finish fifth in the league, and only two years removed from a 1-9 season, Surace guided Princeton to an 8-2 season and road victories over the top three teams in the preseason poll.

Princeton, which averaged 43.7 points per game, placed a league-best 17 players on the All-Ivy team, including six on the first team. For the second straight year, a Princeton player earned the Bushnell Cup as the Ivy League Player of the Year; one year after current Kansas City Chief Mike Catapano was named the league's Top Defensive Player, quarterback Quinn Epperly earned the Top Offensive Player award.

Epperly was one of two Princeton players to attend the Bushnell Cup banquet in New York City, as senior Caraun Reid was a finalist for the Ivy League Defensive Player of the Year award. In addition, Reid made Princeton history in two impressive ways. He became Princeton's first two-time First-Team All-America honoree in 20 years when he was named to the 2013 All-America team by The Sports Network, and he became the second player in program history to earn an invitation to the Senior Bowl.

Princeton was explosive throughout the season; after scoring 50 points only four times in a span of 469 games entering the 2013 schedule, the Tigers did so five times during their eight wins, including victories over historic rivals Harvard and Yale. That clinched a second straight bonfire at Princeton, a tradition saved for a "Big Three" title.

While the 2013 season will be remembered forever for earning the program's 10th Ivy League championship, it actually didn't mark the same level of improvement as Surace's 2012 season. After back-to-back 1-9 records, Princeton improved by four games and finished the 2012 campaign with a 5-5 record. The Tigers stayed in the Ivy League championship race until the final day of the season, and they earned the first bonfire — a Princeton tradition for sweeping the Harvard-Yale series — on campus since 2006.

Of course, that doesn't tell the full story of those two wins. Princeton rallied from a 24-point fourth quarter deficit to stun nationally ranked Harvard 39-34 last October; the Tigers scored 29 unanswered points in the final 12 minutes, with the final touchdown coming on a 36-yard touchdown pass with 13 seconds remaining.

Three weeks later, Princeton scored 29 unanswered points again; this time, a Princeton-record 100-yard interception return ignited the Tigers' first win at Yale since the 2006 Ivy championship season.

Surace guided a team that earned 10 All-Ivy League honors, including the Bushnell Cup for Catapano. The senior defensive lineman and 2013 draft pick joined Reid on the FCS All-America teams.

The 22nd head coach at Princeton, Surace was a first-team All-Ivy center when he helped the 1989 Tigers to a 6-1 league mark and a share of the Ivy title. In addition to his tenure with the Bengals, Surace was also the head coach at Division III Western Connecticut State University, where he put together an 18-3 record in 2000 and 2001.

Surace (pronounced "suh-RACE") had served as assistant offensive line coach for the Bengals for the last six years of his time with Cincinnati; prior to that, he served two seasons as an offensive staff assistant. In addition to his work with the line, he played a key role in the entire offensive staff's game preparation. In 2009, that offense helped the Bengals to a 10-6 record and a sweep of their AFC North rivals, including the defending Super Bowl champion Pittsburgh Steelers.

Under Surace's leadership, Western Connecticut advanced to the second round of the NCAA Division III Championship and won the Freedom Football Conference title in 2001; the win in the NCAA playoffs was the first in school history. In 2000, the Colonials won the Northeast Championship ECAC playoff game. In both of Surace's seasons, the team ranked in the top 25 nationally in the American Football Coaches Association poll.

Surace grew up in a coaching family. His father, Tony, was head coach for his high school football and baseball teams in Millville, N.J.

Surace began his coaching career in 1990 as running backs coach at Springfield (Mass.) College, where he also earned a master's degree in sports management in 1992.

In 1994, when the Canadian Football League fielded teams in the U.S., Surace was with the Shreveport Pirates as the assistant to head coach and general manager Forrest Gregg, the former Bengals coach who guided Cincinnati to Super Bowl XVI.

His wife, Lisa, was a four-time letterwinner in women's soccer at Princeton and is a member of the Class of 1992. She holds a Ph.D. in psychology and is now the Lower School Head at Princeton Day School.

They have a daughter, Alison, and a son, A.J.

Surace is part of one of the richest traditions in all of college football. Princeton was involved in the first college football game ever played on Nov. 6, 1869, and has played a total of 778 all-time games with an all-time winning percentage of .675 and five former head coaches in the College Football Hall of Fame: William W. Roper, Fritz Crisler, Tad Wieman, Charles W. Caldwell, Jr. and Dick Colman.
